Residence: The Ancestral home of the Caspersz family was situated at 24 Walls Street, Kotahena, which was right next door to St Benedict's College Primary School and at the bottom of the steps leading up to the rear of St Lucia's Cathedral.

Notes for JULIANA SARAH OVERLUNDE:

She employed as many as 7 tailors. The house was known as the "Seminary". It was previously a Seminary run by the Catholic Church and the property was either leased or purchased. It was a large house made up of a Verandah in front and three large dormitories. The center dormitory was the Hall (lounge room) and Dining room. The other two dormitories were partitioned to make up the bedrooms. The rear of the house had a store room/pantry, Guest room, Servants room, kitchen and there were other outbuildings where the dressmaking business was run.

Although Robert and Sarah had 13 Children, they did not all live in the house at the same time, due to the big gap in ages (30 years) between the eldest and the youngest. Robert died in 1914 and Sarah in 1915. The house was then occupied and run by Ethel, the youngest daughter (12th child) of Robert & Sarah, together with her husband Leon (Cecil) de Fry, their six children and the orphan children of Austin Caspersz, the 5th child of Robert & Sarah. Also in residence was Roland Caspersz, youngest child of Robert & Sarah and Clara Pronk who was an adopted child from the Keyser family. Ethel taught music at the house.

The DeFry family finally had to leave the house, due to health problems caused by rising dampness. The house was demolished in the early 1950's. However, the old Dutch front verandah facade was not demolished. The De Fry family moved to Dehiwela in 1933

Cause of Death: Burnt heart valves due to exposure to Xrays in his experimenting with them

Qualification: Radiographer

Education: St Benedict's College, Kotahena

Occupation 1: Teacher at St Benedict's College, Kotahena

Occupation 2: Manager of Electro Medical Technologist, Dept of Health, Sri Lanka

Notes for MAURUS LEONARD BARADAT JOSEPH CASPERSZ by his son Doyne:

Maurus matriculated, taught at St. Benedicts for a short time and together with another Benetictine (Joe Fernandopulle) were the first two Radiographers in Ceylon. By a process of study and examination he became a member of the Society of Radiographers in London. In the mid 1940 he got patent rights in the USA, Canada, the United Kingdom, Australia and Ceylon for inventing an enhancement to the then X- Ray machines so that they would provide accurate measurements of the body part that was being X Ray'd up to the nearest millimeter. He advanced to becoming the first Electro Medical Technologist in the Department of Health and was awarded a WHO Fellowship in 1951 to the USA, UK, Holland and Germany to visit the leading manufacturers of X Ray equipment. He joined the Dept. of Health and worked at the General Hospital until he became the Head of the Dept. of Electro Medical Engineering. For his invention which he got extensive patent rights he did not cash in on any commercial aspect because he was not entitled since he was a Government Servant. He did however get an honorarium of Rs 600.00 awarded to him on the directions of King George V for his invention with the citation that it was in the interest of the cause of humanity. The only person to disagree with the honorarium of Rs 600.00 was the famous intellect K Sunderalingam who wanted it raised to Rs 6000.00 - it is in Hansard. All of this including the Patent Rights are all in our Family album which at the moment is with my brother Humphrey. None of us will have any any reservations in including this in the genealogy. By the way the Cobolt Therapy machine for treating malignant tumours at the Mharagama Hospital was installed under Dad's supervision.

In simple terms prior to his invention, the accuracy of the imaging was distorted and the degree of distortion was determined by the mass that the X-Rays had to penetrate to X-ray the object in the body. If there were 2 persons with identical hearts in terms of size and one was very fat and the other exceedingly thin then the fat guy's heart would show on the X-ray as much smaller than the actual size whilst the opposite will occur with the thin guy. Dad's invention gave the exact size of the object to the nearest millimetre. The price he paid was an early death at 56 as he had burnt the values in his heart by the experimentation that took to produce this improvement.
